

Jerry Frese Wins Lee Oratorical Contest

— "COCKTAIL PARTY" FINAL COMEDY —

Carroll Gunkel, Pat Cullen Come In Second And Third Dyer, Kraus, Nellies Also Participate Dr. Ayd, Mr. Feeley, Mr. Schmitt Judge

J. Jerome Frese, a senior English major, has won the Lee Oratorical Contest. The contest was held on Wednesday, April 23, in Cohn Hall, during the 1 p.m. free period.

Carroll R. Gunkel, a senior science major, placed second; and Patrick G. Cullen who is a sophomore, and a political science major, placed third. The other contestants were Jerome M. Dyer, Michael J. Kraus, and George W. Nellies, Jr.

Judges

The contest was judged by Dr. Frank Ayd, Mr. Paul Feeley, and Mr. Lewis Schmitt. Dr. Ayd is a psychiatrist, while Mr. Feeley and Mr. Schmitt are lawyers. All three are alumni of Loyola College.

The Lee Gold Medal for Oratory is annually awarded to the student who is judged best in composition and delivery in this contest. It was not offered last year; in 1956 it was awarded to Jay Arnold.

Students Also Judge

All the juniors, who are taking Speech, attended the contest, and filled out judging ballots. According to Mr. Francis L. Christ, Chairman of the English Department, "the students critical reports agreed generally with the judges' decision."

Joint Sponsors

The Lee Oratorical Contest is conducted by the Dean's Office in conjunction with the English Department. Arrangements were made for the English Department by Mr. Francis O. Voci.

The master of ceremonies for the affair was Salvatore Marzullo, the President of the Student Council.

Luncheon Before Contest

Immediately preceding the contest, a luncheon was held for the judges, the master of ceremonies, Mr. Voci, Mr. Christ, and Mr. William LeFevre.

Yearbook Publication Delayed; Sickness, Bad Weather Causes

The 1958 Evergreen Annual will be distributed to underclassmen in September, it was announced by Editor George Nellies today. The seniors are to receive their copies on graduation day.

Bad Weather Cause

The reason given by George for this change in plans is that a combination of sickness on the staff, and bad weather caused a part of the copy to be delayed until it became impossible to have a high-quality yearbook printed in the time still remaining until the end of the school year. So it was decided to delay the production.

At present, all the copy has been taken to the printer and work has been started on the book. Most of the copy has been at the printer for over a month. The pictures of the spring sports, however, could not be taken until the weather cleared up, and so have just recently been delivered.

Can Be Ordered

Yearbooks may still be ordered, and need not be paid for until the summer.

Individual Jenkins Gold Medal Award Degate Occurs On Wed.

"Resolve: Union Membership as a Condition of Employment should be illegal."

This will be the issue at hand next Wednesday in Cohn Hall as Loyola debaters compete individually for the annual Jenkins gold-medal award.

Loyola Is Site Of Symposium

On April 7 and 8 an isotope symposium, attended by more than two hundred people, was held on the campus. It was sponsored by the Office of Industrial Development, U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, the Baltimore Applied Nucleonics Society, the Baltimore Association of Commerce, and Loyola College.

The arrangements committee was headed by the Very Reverend Father Beatty and among its members were Mr. H. Douglas and Mr. H. Weymouth of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. J. Morse of The Martin Company, and Mr. C. Baker an alumnus of the college.

The purpose of this symposium was to acquaint the members of industry with the development in isotope research and the ways in which these developments can be applied to their own fields.

Synodinos, Molloy, Smyth, Cox, Misses Kuhn, Criber, Danneberg To Star In Final Production

By Tom Curtis

This year's final production of the Dramatics Society will be The Cocktail Party, a comedy by T.S. Eliot. Presentation is scheduled for May 1, 2, and 3, at eight thirty in Cohn Hall. Tickets are $1.25, stag or drag.

The cast includes Ed Reese, John Synodinos, Jim Molloy, Dennis Smyth, and Charles Cox, of Loyola, Margie Kuhn, Joan Griber, and Phillis Danneberg, of Notre Dame, and Mary Jane Carroll, of Mount Saint Agnes. Bob Dunn will direct.

Sprinkled With Cologne?

When it was presented on Broadway, the play starred Alec Guinness, who inspired the late critic George Jean Nathan to describe it as, "Liberally sprinkled with cologne."

Ed Reese, president of the Mask and Rapier Society, has given his personal assurance that this production will be as entertaining as any that has been presented this year. Jim Molloy, stage manager and co-star, contends that this treatment of love and passion in the Eliot manner is the best that he has encountered in some time.

To Close Successful Season

The consensus of opinion among members of the Dramatics society is that this comedy of finding a choice and taking the consequences will be a delightful way to finish an extremely successful season.

This is the last season for Vince Cucina, vice-president of the Mask and Rapier Society. A three year member, he has had leading roles in "Old Man Noah," "Room for Rent," The Man Who Came to Dinner, You Can't Take It With You, Skin Game, Shadow and Substance, Sleep of Prisoners, and several Loyola Nite productions. Vince will receive the final GREYHOUND SALUTE OF THE MONTH in the next issue.

NDM Presents A "Demi-opera"

The NDM College Glee Club will present a "demi-opera" entitled "Monette" on May 12, promptly at 4:30. The presentation will be in English and concerns a group of women hat designers.

The lead will be played by Sylvia Brown, with solos by Sue Nevin, Susan Gilhooly, Ruth Joyner and Nancy O'Connell. Stage direction is by Terry Fauth, musical direction by Nancy O'Connell.

"Monette" will be presented in the Little Theatre, admission 25¢ the proceeds to go to the building fund.

A Commentary

Charlie Fitzsimmons, vice president of the much discussed student council, drew another well rounded chuckle from that body at its April 18th meeting.

The subject of discussion was whether or not to admit the Marian League to the list of student organizations.

Earl Logue had pointed out that the students already had four organizations of that type to fulfill their religious needs.

V.P. Fitzsimmons pointed at Logue to give an answer.

Nice Try

Before he could start, the moderator of that worthy group said, somewhat aghast, "The Vice President has the gavel. He's pointing with it."

Sheepishly, Charlie shoved the instrument back into the waiting hands of the Council President, Sal Marzullo.

"I was only fingering it," he said.

Everybody laughed. They know how it is.

Alpha Sigma Selects 6 Juniors, 1 Senior

Alpha Sigma Nu, Jesuit honor society, received seven members into its organization at initiation ceremonies held recently in Xavier Lounge.

The six Juniors and one Senior were chosen because of their loyalty, scholarship and service, according to Jerry Frese, president of the Evergreen unit.

New Members

Juniors who were admitted to A.S.N. include: Ken Billeb; Charles Fitzsimmons; Ted Madey; Hugh McKenna; Joe Vinci; Dick Zamecki. Earl Logue, senior, was also picked.

The Loyola chapter of Alpha Sigma Nu was formed in 1942. The organization itself dates back to 1915.

A.S.N.'s purpose is a dedication to the fostering and achieving of the ideals of a Jesuit college.

Present Seniors already members of A.S.N. are: Vince Cucina Jack Cummings; Don Dodson; Joe Forstner; Jerry Frese; Bill Zieglar.

Editorials

Multae viae unam ad urbem ducunt.

There can be no question but that sincere men often will differ when the best means to a given end is to be determined. Such was the situation this year, when this newspaper found it somewhat difficult to see "eye to eye" with several members of the current Student Council.

That a certain amount of hard feelings resulted from this cannot be denied, for the expressions of those hard feelings were printed here. It is, however, to be denied that these feelings are personal.

To Mr. Marzullo, the President of the Council, we offer our wishes for success and happiness. We disagreed wholeheartedly, but we can now forget it entirely.

Likewise, we, the Greyhound Staff, wish to express our congratulations to the entire Student Council for a job better than any past Council has done. The passage of an election ordinance is an achievement in itself. And the correction made in the Sophomore Political Science Courses is a fine example of one of the primary functions of the Council, to serve the student body. These are selected from among many accomplishments.

To the new council, under the capable direction of Mr. Synodinos we wish the best of luck, which it appears is of prime importance to Loyola activities, and we humbly suggest the following legislation:

1. That all tests and examinations (including finals) be returned to the students, of at least made available for their inspection.
2. That some provision be made to allow juniors who get A's and B's in all their other courses, but C's in speech, to make the Dean's List.
3. To arrange for still another activity period during the week.
4. To investigate the problem of scheduling activity meetings.
5. To amend the provision of the constitution which requires a two-thirds majority to uphold the President's interpretation of the constitution.
6. To consider the possibility of inaugurating an honor system.

The Greyhound looks forward to the 1958-59 school year for progress, and, we hope, harmony.

A cherry blossom festival without the blossoms, that was the story for the week of March 23-30. The festival was highlighted by a massive parade on the 29th which lasted for four hours. Co. T-5 trick drill team represented the school and did well in a competition which included various schools from all the states.

Of course there were several distractions from practice especially that of 48 cherry blossoms Queens, but a quick eyes right and ready front satisfied all and practice continued.

Scabbard and Blade

Co. I-11, the Loyola College chapter of the Scabbard and Blade, recently initiated nineteen new members who had completed a rigorous two months pledge period.

Following the initiation at Xavier Lounge, a banquet was held for all the members at Fort Holabird's Officers' Open Mess, with Col. C.A. Minot, Capt. Nelson Ritter and Lt. Eugene Smallwood as its guests.

The outgoing seniors will formally turn over the society to its new members at the election of officers which will take place in the near future.

the Kitchen Cynic

BY JIM MOLLOY

I was talking with my nephew Roland the other day trying to teach him the errors of his ways. I was quietly sitting at home listening to Ravel on the hi-fi and leafing through a recent issue of Play-uh-Playgoers Guide, when in the front door burst Roland.

"Good evening, Roland." I said "What brings you here?"

"Hiya, Unc! I brung (sic) myself."

"And how is your dear Mother?"

"Pretty good for an old lady. Say Unc they say I'm going to be a teenager soon. Is that right?"

"Why yes, you will be thirteen next month. I'll try to remember."

"Say Unc, what's all this flap about wild teenagers and youth?"

"Ah! It's all so true. In the last few years youth has deteriorated. No more the simple pleasures of Saturday matinees and ice from the truck. No more rides on the back of street cars and picking wild fruit from the neighbors trees. No more Jack Armstrong. Now, alas, it is hotrods and juvenile crime waves and Elvis Presley. Youth now gows up so quickly and poorly."

"Aw, can it Unc. You know I can beat you in wrestling anyday of the month, but you mean you actually went to movies and missed the cowboy movies on TV? And they actually grew fruit here? And who was this Armstrong guy?"

"Yes, we would pool our pennies and one of us would let the other in through the back exit of the theatre, and they grew immense sickle pears two blocks away that were at least as big as a golf ball. And Jack Armstrong could stop a South American revolution and still have time for the Wheaties commercial in fifteen minutes air time, but now youth is too old for such simple pleasures. They must have Cinemascope and hi-fi and I hear it is common for the boys to like to dance before they are fourteen. What is the world coming to?"

"Say Unc could I borrow something of yours?"

"Certainly Roland you know I am always approachable."

"Well you, I got a heavy date for this cha-cha contest Friday and I wondered if I could borrow your dinner-jacket with the plaid cummerbund."

Ah, youth!

Father Herman I. Storck Celebrates 60th Anniversary

Active Jesuit Stationed Here

Rev. Herman I. Storck, student counselor of the men and women of the Loyola Evening College and Graduate Division, celebrated his sixtieth anniversary as a member of the Jesuits on April 20.

Alumni and friends of Father Storck were in attendance at a Mass of Thanksgiving on the Evergreen campus.

Baltimorean

Born in Baltimore November 26, 1877, Father Storck attended Calvert Hall and Loyola College. He joined the Society of Jesus in 1898 and was ordained a priest in 1912 at Woodstock College, Maryland, by the late Cardinal Gibbons.

Father Storck taught at Fordham University, Boston College, Canisius College and Georgetown University as Professor of Chemistry. He is a member of the American Chemical Society.

Retreat Master

Father Storck has been active in retreat movements. After serving as Itinerant Retreat Master from 1923 to 1927 with headquarters in New York City and Jersey City, he founded the Loyola House of Retreats at Morristown, New Jersey in 1927.

In 1928, he presided at the first conference inaugurating the National Laymen's Retreat Movement. He also founded the first First Friday Luncheon Clubs of the New York-New Jersey area and elsewhere.

Province Writer

From 1941 to 1950, he was Pastor at St. Thomas' Manor, Bel Alton, Maryland, and during this period also served as Province writer for the Jesuits.

Father Storck returned to Loyola College in 1950 and has served as Spiritual Father of the Community.

Service And Sincerity Are Keynoted Of Jim Pallace's Activities At Loyola

Jim Pallace beamed when conversation turned to his family. He reached into his pocket and produced a stack of photos of his pretty wife, Dorothy, and their thirteen month old daughter, Elaine. Jim is normally modest about his achievements but he is the quickest man on campus to brag about his daughter.

Born in New York, he moved to Baltimore in 1946. He graduated from Loyola High School in 1951. After attending Loyola College for two years, he spent the next two in the service. He returned to Loyola in 1956.

Jim is co-editor of the yearbook and is quite active in other extra-curricular activities. Among the many activities he is a member of the Student Council, Block L, Academy of Student Orientation and writes for the sports page of this paper. He ran track and cross country in his first two years at Loyola.

With an eye to following his father's footsteps, Jim entertains thoughts of teaching as a career. He will do graduate work in history this fall at the University of Maryland.

Often seen traveling to his home in Brooklyn with John Linsenmeyer, Jim is perhaps best known to the average student as the author of the controversial election ordinance that was recently before the Student Council. He is also chairman of the Council's election committee.

Besides being a loving husband, a proud father and a leader in extra-curricular activities, he still maintains an excellent scholastic record.

An avid sports fan, he can be found during the summer months discussing the Orioles with his neighbors on Audrey Avenue. Jim is a strong booster of Greyhound teams and rarely misses a game.

This human perpetual motion machine is known as "one of the nicest guys on campus." He is one of the few who have contributed so much during four years. Thus, Jim Pallace, who is a leader in many fields, deserves the GREYHOUND SALUTE OF THE MONTH.

This was the scene at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, when the ROTC Department of Loyola was on the rifle range. The purpose of the expedition was to allow any volunteers who so desired to gain valuable experience firing the M1, which is too powerful a weapon to be discharged indoors at our rifle range.

the Watchdog

BY JERRY DYER

We saw a letter to the Editor which was received after the last issue of this paper, it was from Mr. Richard Prodey who is the Freshman class president. It was articulate, and rather vindictive in regard to this column. It brings to mind a line of poetry, "A beam of light in darkness obscure." We wish to thank Mr. Prodey for his interest, and congratulate him on his spirit.

A Letter

Dear Editor,

Upon reading your issue of April 18, I happened upon an editorial, the lead paragraph of which had to do with the "conspicuous quiet on the part of "conspicuous class." I suggest that your editorialist take into account certain Frosh class accomplishments: The organization of the Green and Grey Club, the purchase of a Greyhound costume, the sponsoring of the Spring Sports Festival, Fresh-participation in Athletics, Dramatics and the Glee Club, and this Newspaper.

I would also like to suggest that you unchain this editorialist from his typewriter in the Greyhound office and let him walk around the school and see exactly what the Freshman class is doing.

Richard M. Prodey.
President, Class of 1961

The Spring Concert was Great. In contrast, the Annapolis Glee Club which appeared on the Sullivan show the next night was, compared to our boys, amateurish. We have become the proud possessors of one of the best college glee clubs in the east. Our thanks to Mr. McCall.

Under no circumstances miss the Dramatists' "Cocktail Party."

Tony Sacco told us the other day that he hadn't seen the name Tony Sacco in Tony Sacco's school newspaper for three years, OK Mr. Sacco, we mentioned the name Tony Sacco, satisfied?

How to be very, very popular — Tell a girl that the seams of her stockings are crooked, and find out she's not wearing stockings, try it.

Hoo Boy, is ol' Willie Shakespeare getting a working over around here, does anybody care to know his blood type, or buskin size? We feel sure it will come out in one of the lectures.

Hear This — Charles Street Drive is now one way east, or was it west? Maybe it was One Street East is now Charles Way. Or was it only after 6:00 P.M.? Well, anyway it's very important.

Times are tough all over, why Jerry Langan missed getting his picture in the last issue of the Greyhound, Synodinas gave up on his beard, and the Library refused to accept a donated copy of Peyton Place.

— Finnerty, Simon Receive Cornell Grants —

Both Members Of First Engineering-Physics Class

Joseph G. Finnerty, Jr., and Albert B. Simon, graduating seniors, have been awarded grants by the Cornell University Graduate School of Engineering.

Mr. Finnerty and Mr. Simon are the first members of their class to win such grants after studying in an engineering-physics curriculum inaugurated three years ago at Loyola with a grant from the Raskob Foundation. 1958 marks the first graduating class under the new program.

In addition, both students recently earned honorable mentions in The National Science Foundation Fellowship Program.

Both students attended Loyola High School, and both took Greek, rather than science during their high school days.

Professor Elmo L. DiBiagio directs Loyola's engineering-physics program.

Joseph G. Finnerty

Joseph G. (Bodie) Finnerty, a senior engineering-physics major, has been granted a fellowship for post-graduate study by Princeton University.

The fellowship is known as the Celanese, because it is endowed by the Celanese Corporation of America, and it is valued at $2750 per year.

Course of Study

Bodie will study engineering-physics, with concentration in structural engineering.

At Loyola College, he is currently carrying a 3.6 quality point average, is a member of the Physics Club and the Scabbard and Blade.

High School Record

Bodie went to Loyola High School where he was in the Sodality, Boosters, and Debating Society, winning the Junior Prize Debate in his sophomore year.

Last summer he worked for the J. E. Greiner Company as an assistant to a liason engineer on the Harbor Tunnel.

Football and Lacrosse

Big and broad, Bodie played football for Loyola High, as did his father, but switched to lacrosse in college.

Bodie, who has a handsome smile and a winning personality, is engaged to Miss Alice Ann Fanon.

Albert B. Simon

Albert Simon, a senior engineering-physics major has been granted an assistantship for post-graduate study by Princeton University.

The assistantship, which is valued at $2500 per year, will involve some teaching or research work.

Course of Study

Al will continue his engineering-physics studies, with concentration in mechanical engineering.

At Loyola College, he is currently carrying a 3.25 quality point average, is a member of the Physics and Glee Clubs.

High School Record

Al went to Loyola High School, where he participated in the German Club and in intramural athletics.

Last summer he worked for the Greiner Company, at first on the Harbor Tunnel. Later he was sent out to Cleveland, where he did some drafting, in conjunction with the setting up of a new plant.

Excels in Science

Al who is tall and blonde, has a serious bent, and excels in science.

Glee Club Is Rehearsing For Final Two Concerts

The College Glee Club, after a highly successful Spring Concert, has just returned from a joint concert in Washington with Dunbarton College of the Holy Cross. This was the first time that the Washington School joined voices with a male chorus, and it proved to be very favorable.

The 40 member group is now rehearsing for its final two concerts of the season. These are with Villa Julie Junior College on May 9 and Mount Mercy College in Pittsburgh, Pa. on May 17-18.

The Pittsburgh excursion will be the first weekend trip that a Loyola College Glee Club has every undertaken and will undoubtedly furnish the members with a fitting climax in bringing their successful Spring season to a close.

It is hoped by the Glee Club officers that this trip will begin a precedent for the succeeding years and that at least 1 weekend excursion can be taken by the choral organization each year.

Back Again?

Seniors currently study ethics from Father Higgin's textbook entitled Man As Man. We understand he is almost finished writing a new book to replace Man As Man.

Rumor has it that the title of his new book is to be Man As Man Returns. Other books soon to be released will include: Man As Man Meets Abbott and Costello, Man As Man Meets Frankenstein, Death of Man As Man, Son of Man As Man, Return of Man As Man, and many others.

Discoverer Of Silica Gel, Almost Unknown At L. C.

Unknown to most students at Loyola College is that Dr. Walter A. Patrick, professor of chemistry, is the inventor of the famed Silica Gel, which found much use in the last two wars.

The Doctor started the project at the University of Göttingen in Germany before World War I while working for his Doctor's degree. And in 1917 he developed Silica Gel while stationed with the Chemical Warfare Service in Germany. At that time it was used principally by the Armed forces as a preventive against poisonous gas.

Uses of Silica Gel

In the United States, Dr. Patrick, together with the Davidson Chemical Company, which holds mostly all patents, developed the Gel further. Due to the great powers of absorption for water of Silica Gel, it was used in World War II as a preventive against the rusting of arms. Today it is chiefly used for the purifying of gasoline.

Dr. Patrick came to Loyola in 1954 after retiring from Johns Hopkins University where he was professor emeritus of chemistry. Besides his duties as lecturer at Loyola, Dr. Patrick is a consultant for the Davidson Chemical Company, and is doing research work for the Atomic Energy Commission.

LETTERMEN TO VOTE ON MOHLER TROPHY; BALLOTING TO BE HELD WEEK OF MAY 12

JOHN ALLEN — John, a returned Air Force veteran, while he was at Loyola, has performed well for us on the winning team for four years as a freestyler and has also handled a cool lacrosse stick.

JACK BEATTY — Not more than 5'9" in height, this stocky senior played soccer and captained the baseball team. He was also an adept outfielder on the diamond nine.

JACK CUMMINGS — Quiet and unassuming, Jack was a key man in the back court for Greyhound basketball mentor Lefty Rietz. Jack also captained the tennis team and once had a personal win streak of 30 matches.

DAVE EBERSOLE — One of the top hurlers on the Hound pitching staff, Lefty Dave has been a starting pitcher for the Evergreen nine, since he was a Freshman.

CHUCK FRANKLIN — Chuck made his name at Loyola on the Hound lacrosse team; played on the attack and leads the team in assists.

JERRY FRESE — A member of the track and crosscountry squad, Jerry has been a mainstay during his sojourn at Loyola. Although never a big winner, the versatile red head has always proved himself a tough competitor.

DICK HALL — Dick was a key cog in Tommy Lind's soccer machine. He played halfback possessed an excellent kick from out of bounds.

LOU HOFFERBERT — Lou came to us from Loyola high school where he played football, basketball, and baseball. Here, he has been all Mason-Dixon fullback for two years on the soccer squad and has pitched on the baseball team.

The second annual Mohler Trophy will be awarded at the Athletic Banquet on May 24 to the outstanding senior athletic for his ability and participation both in curricular and extra curricular activities.

Lefty Reitz says that the voting will take place the entire week of May 12 in the Campus Book Store. Only Loyola letterman are eligible to vote. Lefty says also that the reason for late voting is to allow the completion of the spring sports schedule and enable the athletes participating in them to vote. One-hundred percent participation is anticipated.

Men eligible for the award may be found on this page.

BILL HOOPER — Bill represented the Green and Gray as a member of both the soccer and lacrosse squads. An aggressive fullback and captain of the Hound kickers, he also played defense and was co-captain of the stick team.

BERNIE KARPERS — Bernie, the eldest of the three Karpers brothers, has been a mainstay on the swimming squad for four years as a butterflyer; he also served as captain of the team in his senior year.

PAUL KOHLHEPP — Paul is the captain of the golf team and has been a member of the squad for four years.

MICKEY McFADDEN — Mickey made Honorable Mention All-American for two years while he was an attackman on our lacrosse team. This year, a shoulder injury prevented his moving up to the All-American ranks.

DENNY McGUIRE — 6'5" in height, big Denny was captain and a forward on this year's court quint. Since coming to Loyola, he has suffered a variety of injuries yet came back strong this season to spark the Hounds when the going was roughest.

LEO ROMEO — A member of the Hound baseball team for four years, Leo made most of his appearances on the mound as a relief pitcher.

MITCH TWARDOWICZ — Mitch was a graduate of Loyola High School, and has been a stellar performer on the varsity tennis squad for four years; at present, he is the number two man on the squad.

JIMMY VAETH — Jim, after arriving from St. Joe, gave his services to the thinclads before switching to the stick game. He has been a midfielder with the lacrosse team for the past two years.

JOE WATKINS — Lacking the advantage of high school experience because of an illness, this 6'4" product of Loyola High School was a consistent performer on the court for Loyola.

JAMES WETZEL — Jimmy has been a top former on the varsity link squad for four years. His driving ability is, probably, his greatest asset.

The Air Force pilot or navigator is a man of many talents. He is, first of all, a master of the air—and no finer exists. In addition, he has a firm background in engineering, electronics, astro-navigation and allied fields. Then, too, he must show outstanding qualities of initiative, leadership and self-reliance. He is, in short, a man eminently prepared for an important career in the new Age of Space. As a college graduate, you will be given priority consideration for the Air Force Aviation Cadet Program. While openings are limited, you will be tested and advised immediately of qualification status. Find out if you measure up. Paste the attached coupon on a post card and mail it now.

Greyhound Baseball Team On Way To Good Year

By Bob Reiter

The Loyola College baseball team appears to be climbing out of the rut it had fallen into as the Greyhounds whipped visiting Mount St. Mary's in a doubleheader on Saturday, April 19, taking the first game 10-9, and winning the second 4-1.

The Hounds had to come from behind in the opener as a bases loaded walk to Don Deinlein in the last inning provided the winning run. Bucky Foote with four hits and Deinlein with three led a seventeen hit attack. Dave Ebersole was the winning pitcher.

In the nightcap Loyola scored all of its runs in the first inning on two walks, a bunt single by Dave Carney, a balk, and two Mcuntie errors. Ray Short looked impressive as he allowed only five hits in winning his first game of the season. Carney had two of the teams four hits.

On April 15, the Hounds lost to Johns Hopkins 7-2 at Evergreen. The hosts had a 2-1 lead entering the sixth frame, but in this inning four of the six runs which crossed the plate were unearned and proved to be the teams downfall. Bill Rock, Blue Jay hurler, pitched a three hitter. Dave Marshall got two of these, a single and a double.

Hofstra College of Hemstead, Long Island journeyed to Evergreen on April 10, and defeated Loyola 8-3. The Hounds were leading this contest 3-1, but as in the Hopkins game the visitors rallied for six runs in the sixth, to come out on top. Don Deinlein was the hitting star as he banged out two hits, one a booming triple.

The Hounds are now 2-1 in the league. Before the Mount St. Mary's double header Coach Lefty Reitz had only this to say, "Give me some hitters and pitchers." Reitz realizes that the boys aren't up to par because of the long layoff due to the heavy snowfall, and feels that if the veterans can show the form they had the year before and the newcomers can come through that the team should have a good season.

1958 Track Team Good Running, Poor Field

The 1958 track season once again finds the Hounds strong in the running events but woefully weak in the field events.

Loyola finished in the number four position in their first meet, the Catholic University Invitational. Hugh McKenna, Paul Sherman, Ken Billeb and the two lap relay team provided Loyola's 21 points.

Coach Bill McElroy's squad followed with a 70-52 loss to Western Maryland and a heartbreaking 64½ to 57½ loss to Galludet.

McKenna won the 100 and 220-yd. races in both meets with Bill Corcoran picking up place and show points. Sherman, although not up to par physically in the Western Md. meet did yoeman work with a third in the 440 and a first in the 880. He finished in front in both of these events in the following meet. Rich Jones and John Fitzsimmons continued to show improvement while finishing in the money both days.

Billeb, not to be undone by McKenna, finished in front four times in the mile and two mile runs.

The mile relay teams of Vic Dragin, Corcoran, Sherman, and McKenna turned in respectable times in their two victories.

Wade Bowman, Ron Sacker, George Krapp, Dragin, and Ferd Ruppel ended the Loyola scoring by picking up points in the field events.

Western Maryland Is Foe In M-D Tennis Contest

Loyola College's tennis team will attempt to get back into the thick of the pennant race when it takes on defending Northern Division champs, Western Maryland, at Westminster tomorrow.

Jack Cummings, Mitch Twardowicz, and Don Torres, top three men on Coach Vincent Colimore's team, are ready and primed for the Terrors in an effort to regain the loop crown they lost to Western Maryland last year.

It will be something of a revenge match, the Terrors having knocked off the Hounds, 8-1, last April 21, on Loyola's courts. Cummings was the only winner for Loyola in that match.

Backing up Cummings, Twardowicz, and Torres, are Walter Snied, Tom Clifton, and "Battlin' Sam" Donahue. All have done a good job in both singles and also doubles play.

Following the Western Maryland match, the Hounds will round out the 1958 season WITH a home match against Towson, May 5, Washington College away on May 6; Fordham University, home, May 9; Towson away, May 12; Hopkins, at home, May 14.

Cummings and Twardowicz are the seniors on this year's squad, and thus Colimore will have a good nucleus to being next year's team. Torres, Donahue, and Snied should pick up where they left off.

Improved Golfers Led By Kohlhepp, Sheehan, Wetzel

The Loyola golf team should be much improved this season. Despite the inclement weather of the early spring, the team has been practicing more this year than last year. This added practice should prove an important factor in the team's performance this year.

Senior Paul Kohlhepp is the captain of this years team. Seniors Bob Shehan, Jim Wetzel, Andy Michels, Chuck Pessagno, and juniors, Jim Bongardt, Fred Preis round out the squad.

Although the team was defeated in its first match by Western Maryland, they are hopeful of evening their record when they tackle Hopkins today. On May 5th the team will play host to Baltimore U. in a home match, and on May 6th they will meet Washington College at Washington College.

The golf season will come to a close with the annual Mason-Dixon tournament. This year the tournament will take place on May 13th.

Dear Diary...

As I take my pen in hand, I take my bottle of Coke in the other hand! Yes, dear diary, where would I be without Coca-Cola? Just a social outcast. Why, everybody drinks Coke! John and Bill and Barry and Charley. Horace too. Confidentially, I think I'll have another bottle of Coke.
